ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER.

THIS valuable preparation, containing a highly concentrated form of the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for whilst it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from those actions which follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany it.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by the riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes. It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.

The Florence was awarded the first and highest premium at the State Fair of California, the only Fair for the Pacific coast at which any two double thread Sewing Machines were exhibited in competition in 1865.

The Florence received the only premium awarded, by the Mechanics' Institute of San Francisco, in 1861 and 1865, to any Sewing Machine, Sewing Machine Co., or Agent. The claim of a competitor to a medal is without any foundation whatever.

Wherever the Florence has been brought in competition with other Sewing Machines, it has always been declared the best. It is the most simple, the most substantial, the most efficient, and its use is easily learned. Every Machine sold is guaranteed in the full sense of the word.

SEMI-WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

How SHALL THE BED BE PLACED.—So far as my own observations have gone, I know that my sleep is always more sound and refreshing when my bed is placed to the north. There are persons whom I know, the head of whose beds is to the north, and who, in order to wake early, will reverse their usual position in the bed, but without knowing the reason why beyond "that they could always wake earlier," the rest (sleep) being more broken. I have related to me that, at a military hospital in Russia, there were some sick patients, of high sensitive natures, and who were rapidly recovering. When necessity compelled them to be removed to another wing of the building they did not go on so well; in fact, prostration seemed to be settling in, and it was found advisable to get them back to their former quarters.

Now, if I have heard of persons going blind through changing their position from north to south to that of west to east. Certainly, longevity was attained by this means; but it is more than a little curious, that the head of the bed should be placed in a contrary position to that of the head of the bed.

A great crowd, says the Paris (Fr.) Temps, collected about half-past six in the afternoon, on the Pont Royal and the Rue du Bac. The following was the cause: "Three divillies of Benoiton so far that they at once attracted the notice of all who saw them. They promenade in the gardens of the Tuileries, and their success was so great that the police officers, who were anything but American, had to show them outside the gates. The people who had collected, and were delighted at having a spectacle gratis, followed the benighted divillies of Benoiton, and at length began to jeer and hiss them. They were presented with some vine leaves for the purpose of completing their toilet. Several of the market women got amongst the crowd, and armed with the cores of pears and stones of peaches, and all the projectiles of which a heap of dust could be the arsenal, they rained them on the frightened divillies, who at length were compelled to take refuge in a scurry-bag. The crowd was dispersed with difficulty, and the ladies were sent away in a scurry."

The Richest Mine Ever Discovered in the World.—The Marysville Appeal publishes a dispatch from Pico River, under date of November 12th, which says:

"The Woodcock Quartz Mine, located at George town, struck the richest quartz, on Saturday last, that was ever seen in California. It is estimated by competent judges that over $200,000 were taken out on Saturday and Sunday. They are now blocking out nearly a pure, solid mass of gold, three feet in length. This is no humbug, as my informant has seen and handled the chunks, one alone weighing over a hundred pounds. The shaft is one hundred and ten feet deep where the gold was struck."

It is a startling fact that, if the earth were dependent upon the sun for heat, it would not keep existence in animal and vegetable life upon its face. It results from the researches of Pouillet that the stars furnish heat enough in the year to melt a crust of ice seventy feet thick—almost as much as is supplied by the sun. This may appear strange when we consider how immeasurably small must be the amount of heat received from any of these distant bodies. But the surprise vanishes when we remember that the whole firmament is so thickly sown with stars that in some places thousands are crowded together within a space no greater than that occupied by the full moon.

A FORTUNATE exhibition of wet, unseen is announced in the Paris papers. The police do not consider will be the amount and quality of the milk, the age and temperament of the nurses, the kinds of food used by them, &c. Experiments will be made to demonstrate to what degree milk liquors made in different climates, and by the nurse, impregnate the milk; also, whether a passionate or fearful temper of the nurse is conveyed to the nursing child. The exhibition promises to be a very curious, interesting and instructive affair.

Brazil and the United States.—Some time ago it was reported that the United States naval vessels had made suitable arrangements for the seizure of the rebel cruiser Florida in Brazilian waters, and it is now stated that in reference to this matter the Emperor of Brazil, in closing the recent session of the Brazilian National Assembly, said the following language: "The United States of North America have given to Brazil the most complete satisfaction for the violent capture in the port of Bahia of the privateer Florida by the war steamer Wachet."

It is said that an engineer and a compositor in Leipzig have constructed a new printing machine, with seven cylinders, each producing 200 copies an hour. Also, that Mr. Martin, of Paris, has made a newspaper machine which will turn out 10,000 copies an hour. Hoe's prints 30,000; but two of the new machines will be bought for 50,000 francs less than one of Hoe's. The cost of working these two is estimated at 10,000 francs per annum less than for one Hoe.

Mrs. Bernadine Cunningham.—The San Francisco Times says: "Late Eastern papers state that this lady, who created a sensation in New York some years since, was among the victims who perished by the wreck of the ill-fated steamer Evening Star. This is an error. Mrs. Cunningham is at present a resident of this city. She some seven years since married a gentleman named Hayes, who is possessed of considerable property

MORE OF THE BLUE CEMENT COMPANY.

DUTCH FLAT, Nov. 20, 1899.

MR. EDITOR:—In your last number you made mention of a rumor that a corporation was contemplated by some citizens of this place, with a view to a thorough prospect for the lead of blue cement which is confidently supposed to underlie the streak of dirt now being worked by hydraulic process. I am one of the parties who set the scheme on foot and have a knowledge of the progress made, up to the present time. As the matter now stands, we propose to organize a Joint Stock Company with a capital stock of $50,000, in 50 shares of $1,000 per share. Ten have already subscribed at that rate and we have strong hopes that the remainder will be taken. If it is preferred, or is found necessary, we are willing to increase the capital stock to $75,000, and to increase the number of shares, so as to have them at $100. The object is to make a thorough prospect for the general good. We are indifferent where we sink the shaft, so it shall be sunk at a point which will give the best results. The whole amount subscribed is expended. I think though, before our company gives out, we will give you an item that will make outsiders shake their heads and give our boys a fever worse than typhoid.

[As will be perceived on reading the above, the cement enterprise has a broader foundation than we intimated in our last issue. Instead of $2,000, not less than $5,000 and perhaps $7,000 is proposed to be expended. The ten gentlemen whose names head the list are among the most responsible and enterprising of our citizens and are thoroughly in earnest. They propose to embark in the operation, not in a fit of feverish excitement, but with a pretty thorough knowledge and after a careful consideration of probable profits and losses. The scheme is one which should receive the general and hearty encouragement of every one who has a permanent interest in this neighborhood. Let this enterprise prove successful (of which we entertain no shadow of a doubt) and within a very brief period steam mills for crushing cement will be as numerous hereabout as hydraulic apparatuses now are, and our town, as a mining center, will be second to none in California, not even our famous and oft quoted neighbor, Grass Valley. We trust that those who have initiated this commendable undertaking will not suffer the grass to grow under their feet until they have pushed it to a happy and successful consummation, and we hope that every citizen will consider and make it his duty to give all possible aid and encouragement toward insuring success to the undertaking.

"OUT OF THEIR OWN MOUTH," ETC.—The San Francisco Monitor of Nov. 17th, which ought to be good authority on the subject, contains an elaborate and well-digested article of over a column in length, in which it labors to establish the fact that the radicals are engaged in an attempt to subvert the government, and to prove that the Irish voters of the country are in no manner privy to the arrangement. The Monitor says, and we believe truthfully: "Wherever the Irish vote is strongest in the Eastern States, the Democratic Conservative ticket received increased majorities. Thus in the city of New York, while Seymour had a majority of only 30,000, and McClellan for President but about the same number, Hoffman, for Governor, this year rolled up the surplus to near 80,000. This we give as a sample of the result in all the cities and districts where the Irish vote was a realizable element in the contest. The scale was turned, if turned at all by any fair means, through influences to which the Irish are not parties."

AN INQUIRY.—The Marysville Appeal having published a statement that for one of the Assistant Assessors in the 4th District would report to Higher, the Nevada Transcript says: "This is a mistake. We understand that J. E. Richmond, of Nevada county, will make his return to Tahoe. This, however, is the only exception, as we are informed every other man in the District will do business with Avery."

We have it on reliable authority that Mr. Richmond considered it incumbent on himself to telegraph to Secretary McCulloch for advice in the premises, and ran his course in Administration grooves. Having held his position for several years through the favor and by selection of Avery, like the viper of the fable he has turned upon and stung his friend and benefactor. It may be that our train, in this respect, has both defective, but certainly we should, under similar circumstances, have stood by our friend or sent in our resignation. No other course would have contributed to our idea of strict integrity or honorable dealing. Mr. Richmond must have fore-known that a consultation with the acknowledged slugs of our renegade President could have but one issue. Eight dollars per day in greenbacks, for the time actually employed, appears like small compensation for sacrificing a true friend and kind benefactor. It would seem that his race did not become extinct when Judas hung himself.

IS THERE A FLOOD?—The Alta California of the 19th inst., contains an interesting and generally correct article on "The Industrial Condition of the State." There is one particular, however, in which the article would bear a slight modification, before it would conform wholly and exactly with truth. The statement that "at Clisco, on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, about five thousand feet above the sea, six feet of snow have fallen" during the present season, must have been founded on the authority of some gent who had been "swinging round the circle" and saw the flaky substance with glimmering, uncertain vision. Six foot snow would be fully up to the mark, if not an exaggeration. The old Tonton who testified to the height of a horse isolated on eighteen feet because he had once said it. The Alta is not Tonton, nor will it imitate him or "any other man." We shall contentedly await a correction to the trifling extent indicated.

CHINESE ASTRONOMY.—On the evening of the 18th, the time fixed by Caucasian science for the "meteoric shower," one of our citizens remarked in the presence of "Doctor John," a noted Chinese merchant of this place, that he was on the look-out for the grand sight, informing him that on said evening the stars were to fall. Doc thereupon referred to a Chinese almanac in his possession, whereupon he declared with the emphasis and assurance of an oracle that "Molican man no shabbee, Chinamen deep shabbee, to-night stars no fall, long time stars fall—no deep shabbee, you see."

The subsequent failure of the star performance proved the superiority of the Doctor's prognostications over those of our wise men in the East.

HOMICIDE AT LINCOLN.—Whiskey has added one more to the countless host of its murdered victims. At Lincoln, last Saturday evening, John K. Blair and Frank Drew were indulging in a carouse, during which liquor excitement led to high words, and those to a fatal result. Blair was shot and died the next morning. Sheriff Poole arrested Blair and lodged him in the jail at Auburn. This we see two lives, which might otherwise have been long devoted to useful pursuits, one lost and the other jeopardized by indulgence in strong drink.

MAIL ROBBERY.—The Overland mail which left Sacramento for the East on the 6th of August last, was robbed near St. Jo city by a stage driver, who is now in custody. Among other registered letters were four from the Nevada office.

THE JEWEL OR THE CASKET?

That the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment is to be an indispensable condition precedent to the admission of the late rebellious States to full participation in the government, the recent elections have definitely settled. There is no dodging this conclusion; not even the Democracy have the hardihood to gainsay it. Admitting that complete reconstruction can only be accomplished on this condition, two interesting subjects for inquiry and speculation naturally present themselves. 1st: What are the probabilities of ratification by a sufficient number of Southern States to complete the requisite three-fourths? 2nd: What will be the situation and duty of truly loyal men in case of ratification? As to the first of these inquiries, we imagine there is but little room for reasonable doubt. Ratification by twenty-three States is absolutely certain. After such ratification, these twenty-three States will have uttered emphatic and formal reiteration of former repeated declarations of their convictions of duty and ideas of sound policy. After thus formally, solemnly and repeatedly declaring their convictions, they can recede only at the cost of stultification. But they must recede, or some four from the ranks of the excluded States and their conservative allies must comply with the requirements of the majority. The position of the twenty-three States has been taken only after calm and mature deliberation. Their position represents the opinion of a large will of those who have defended and saved, while it is opposed by those who assailed and well-nigh destroyed our government. Those who thus opposed are evidently encouraged to their course by our recent action, and controlled in their action by the fact, who have heretofore habitually misled them. It is preposterous to suppose that the majority will yield their wise and just convictions. It is inconceivable that the minority will continue their suicidal opposition—especially in view of the fact that the President will assuredly be rendered powerless to aid, if he continues to encourage them. These considerations compel the conclusion that, sooner or later, the Amendment will certainly be ratified. After ratification, the right of suffrage will be the question of absorbing interest. In the late slave States the question of granting or denying the right of suffrage to the negro will be far more momentous than it will be in the Northern States. In fact, the adoption of negro suffrage will add twenty-four to the number of Representatives to which the former will be entitled, and subtract as many from the Northern representation. With exclusive white suffrage, after the adoption of the Amendment, the North would be entitled to a hundred and seventy-two, and the South seventy-one Representatives in Congress, while with the rule of universal suffrage the North would be entitled to but 148 against 94 from the South.

A consideration of these facts will be sufficient to show the self-interest that, in a great moral of human actions, will prompt the designing leaders in the South to invest their late chattels with the elective franchise. Inasmuch as have been many of the actions of these leaders of late, we cannot conceive of their being so lacking in penetration as to be unable to comprehend the unmistakable logic of their present situation. They can have neither part nor lot in controlling the national government until the Constitutional Amendment is adopted. They cannot realize the immense advantages to be obtained by the elective franchise to the negro until 1881, unless they ratify the Amendment and adopt the rule of negro suffrage before the apportionment of 1871. Hence, giving our opponents credit for equal shrewdness with ourselves, we may safely conclude that they will use all decent haste to strengthen their lines by an actual acceptance of the situation.

Although we have not fallen heir to the mantle of the prophetic Head of the State Department, we feel safe in predicting that, within a brief period, the excluded States will swarm with wordy, loud-mouthed advocates of instant ratification, and an immediate grant of the right of suffrage to the negro. With a proclivity we have vainly striven to avoid, we have at last reached a point from which we may fairly and squarely consider a subject destined to shake our continent from center to circumference, and on the decision of which will depend the wisdom and permanency of our future nationality. To many, the right of suffrage is but an empty bubble, a matter of barter and sale, an instrument of mischief or an aid to the perpetration of fraud. To the citizen capable of appreciating its value and properly exercising it, it is a precious boon; a priceless privilege, without which his citizenship would be as dross and ashes. To the intelligent, appreciative, reflecting citizen the proper regulation and exercise of the elective franchise is a subject of profoundest and most serious consideration. Once granted, once extended, it is difficult to recall. To our mind the matter is clear, clear that intelligent capacity should, as it is that race, color or religion should not constitute the test of qualification for a voter. It is as absurd to claim that National, State, or even local questions, which require knowledge to comprehend and solve them properly can be safely referred to ignorant men with assurance or guarantee of proper solution, as it is to assert that one possessed of all and more than sufficient knowledge should be debarred on account of color or religion. The brain and heart, and not the cuticle, are the proper shrines of citizenship. That equal reliance on ignorance and intelligence is a safe rule by which to maintain and perpetuate a wise and stable government, is an absurdity too palpable to require argument to demonstrate it. And yet this—nothing more nor less; is the true meaning of universal suffrage by communities comprehending a large proportion of ignorant adults. Southern leaders of the craftier or baser sort, will find a strong incentive to the extension of the right of suffrage. In the lesson taught by the experience of the Northern States. By it they will be taught that the most ignorant and those who most readily and naturally accept the cry of the demagogue for the voice of patriotism. And the same policy that would prompt them to favor universal suffrage because the majority of their citizens were ignorant, and hence easily led, will impel them to keep the poor negroes steeped in ignorance that they may continue to lead them. To those negroes upon whose intelligence, like that of a majority of white Americans and the educated Germans who constitute the predominant element in the Northwest and Missouri, we can rely for a comprehensive, reflecting realization of patriotic duty, we are willing and shall be proud to extend the suffrage. To those negroes who, like the mobs who infest the great commercial cities, are ignorant and benighted, we would most emphatically deny this, the crown jewel of intelligent citizenship.

Mark Twain's ROBERT.—After his lecture at Gold Hill says the Territorial Enterprise of the 11th, Mark Twain and his agent (Mac) were coming on foot up to this city, when just as they were on the Divide, near the Montreal House, they were stopped by five highwaymen, and robbed of about $100 in coin and a valuable gold watch. Mark publishes a card on the subject. This is no joke but it is downright sober earnest. There should be a little hanging done among these rascals. This is the boldest robbery yet.

LATVIA VIRGINIA PAPERS.—The robbery was a joke perpetrated on Mark by some of his friends who were disguised with masks. After Mark was seated in the stage ready to depart for Chico, a package containing the plunder was handed him, when the whole joke was revealed.

Two thousand dollars per annum is spent for saw-dust for sprinkling floors, etc., in San Francisco. Good TREFLARS remember your meeting to-morrow evening (Thursday).

SHOOTING AFFAIR.—We clip the following from the San Bee of the 19th inst.:

At twelve o'clock, last night, in the bar-room of the Union Hotel, on Second street, a difficulty took place between two sporting men named Perkins and Brady. We have not heard the first cause of the misunderstanding, but the parties at length got so excited that Perkins, slapping Brady in the face, the latter drew his Derringer and fired, the ball inflicting a slight flesh-wound in the left arm. Perkins drew his Derringer and aimed to shoot Brady, but his weapon missed fire. At this stage of the game bystanders interfered and prevented further demonstration. Dr. Clapp dressed Perkins' wound. The belligerents were to-day arrested and will in a day or two be arraigned before the Police Court.

A LIBERAL OFFER.—The publishers of The Galaxy, the new fortnightly magazine, announce that they will give to each purchaser of the number of that magazine for November 1st, which is now ready, a handsomely illustrated pamphlet book of 165 octavo pages, containing the first twenty-six chapters of "The Claverings," Anthony Trollope's latest and best novel. "The Claverings" is appearing in The Galaxy simultaneously with its publication in England, and will soon be completed. The book given away is equal in size and typography to novels which are ordinarily sold for 75 cents. The Galaxy for November 1st, with "The Claverings," extra, and the book will be sent by the publishers to any address on receipt of 20 cents. Address W. C. & F. P. Church, No. 59 Park Row, New York.

Second-class.—The Alta says that a telegraph was received in San Francisco on the 17th from Henry A. Sonntag, the well known horticulturist of the Mission Dolores, stating that his daughter Anna, who has been suffering much for the past year in the country, was cured of the German measles, had departed for Weimar, in Plutov's opera of "Stradella," with marked success.

A MEDAL.—Andy Johnson has caused to be prepared a huge silver medal, for an Indian with an unpronounceable name, on one side of which is a picture of Washington, and on the other side a picture of himself, and supposed to be symbolical of the head and tail of Republicanism. On the medal Andy modestly inscribed himself the "Father of this Country."

BY AUTHORITY.—Charles Parker assures us that the cow was the animal which presided at the head of Noah's table in the Ark—behave why, she was the only one that could curve (curve). Ever since Charles got the above we have been forced to maintain the vital spark by the vigorous use of turkey-tails and palm-leaf fans.

A. FRANKLIN & CO.

SEMI-WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

AS JUST AS BEEN.—The humming industry that just now characterizes our neighboring town of Gold Run, would shame the most industrious member of the honey-making profession. If the latter was possessed of a cent of modesty or conscientiousness, there are no drones in the Gold Run hive. Everybody has something to do, knows how to do it and is constantly up and at it. All classes there are in a busy ferment of preparation for the flush times that must inevitably follow the advent of the heavy rains. When the water does come, they are determined to be thoroughly ready to use it to the best advantage. If unflagging industry will accomplish the result. As we have often felt compelled to assert, the Gold Runners are the model mining community of our county and the State—they well deserve and fully earn the golden favors that Fortune is accustomed to shower upon them.

MODEST READERS WILL PLEASE SKIP THIS!—We consider our disposition eminently social. We are singularly fond of company. At all proper times it delights us to receive visits from our friends. Now, pause and consider! The labor necessary to issue our paper semi-weekly, in addition to the job-work entrusted to us which we cannot postpone, frequently compels us to be up until near morning on the nights before publication. On this account we are compelled, painful though it be, to decrease the pleasure of receiving social visits from our friends on certain times, viz: on Tuesday and Tuesday evenings, Friday and Friday evenings, the night of our dear friends and most intimate associates would be preferred to their company. We are, however, in the habit of visiting the office with pleasure take notice! Parties having business with us, will, of course, understand that exceptions will be made in their favor.

HOGGISH MORTALITY.—During the night of Monday, the 19th inst., thirteen fine porkers, belonging to Mr. Schwab, of the Dutch Flat Brewery, suddenly and unaccountably demised, defunctified. These animals retired to their virtuous and peaceful couches apparently in good health and spirits, as they were certainly in excellent condition. The cause of their death is a complete mystery, and, as they were worth fully $300, their decease is sorely felt by Mr. Schwab. As we go with sympathetic eye upon their lifeless adiposity, we were reminded of the pathetic line of Byron:

"The Grease, but living Grease no more."

A friend assures us that he will, for a while at least, abstain from pork until he is well acquainted with the hog. Another suggests that investments in swine subject one to risk of pig-inary losses. Jabez (our lamp) says the point of this last joke is hard to see and is for (when) time.

ATTENTION!—Persons so fortunate as to have money on hand which they would like to deposit in a safe place where it would yet be earning something, would do well to read the advertisement of the San Francisco Savings Union, which is universally admitted to be one of the most solvent and best managed institutions in the State. This concern receives deposits which may be called for whenever wanted or for a term of six months or longer. Deposits of the latter class receive one-fifth more dividends than the former.

RAILROAD PROGRESS.—The track-layers on the Central Pacific Railroad have overtaken the graders just above Polley's, 19 miles above this place. Mr. Swift, one of the foremen on the road, came up from Sacramento on Saturday evening, with a large force of white laborers that he had employed in that city. These men were employed to strengthen the force of track-layers and keep snug up to a large additional number of graders.

RAMBLING THE TRACK.—The clay bed of the railroad through the big cut below Gold Run has been of very soft and mushy consistency since the late rains. The consequence has been that the track has settled below the level of the grade—in some places almost out of sight. This defect is being remedied by raising the track and depositing a firm rock foundation underneath it.

MINING ACTIVITY.—At Bear Valley, about thirteen miles above this place, great activity in mining operations prevails. The existence of an ancient river channel in that vicinity is indicated by many circumstances and strongly believed in by the miners thereabout. An extensive and rich deposit of blue cement is correlative to this theory. A company, of which Mr. McCormick is the managing head, has been formed to test the truth of these propositions by sinking a shaft or several shafts. Great energy and enthusiasm are enlisted in this enterprise, and we are warned to expect thrilling news from Bear Valley shortly. So mote it be!

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last Mr. Adler, of the Dry Goods firm of Adler & Hudepohl, picked up a pistol which had been left at his store by a customer, supposing it to be an unloaded one and as it was loaded it went off and discharged its contents through his left hand, causing a painful, though, we are glad to say, not a dangerous wound.

MAIMED.—A little girl, aged three years, of Nary Red, just above town, was playing with her brother a few years older, when the boy accidentally severed two of her fingers, the fore and middle joints with a sharp, new hatchet which they were mutually enjoying the use of.

GOOD TEMPLE'S DEDICATION AND BALL.—The Hall of Olive Lodge, No. 218 I. O. of G. T., at Gold Run, will be dedicated on this (Wednesday) evening, when an address will be delivered by Jacob Lindsay, Esq. After the ceremonies of dedication under the supervision of the members of Olive Lodge. A grand good time is anticipated.

THE SAN FRANCISCO MECHANICS' INSTITUTE have added one hundred and sixty-three volumes to their library, procured in England at a cost of $1,100.

IN JUSTICE'S COURT—BEFORE E. AUBURY, J. P.—People vs. James Davitt—Exhibiting a deadly weapon. Plead "Guilty" and fined $25.00. A. B. Wilson vs. D. W. Strong, for the sum of $71.48.
